

It is my distinct pleasure to recommend Jessie Cai for the position of Chair of the Studio City Neighborhood Council Youth Committee.

As a coordinator for the SCNC community cleanup events, I have had the privilege of watching Jessie stand out not just as a reliable volunteer, but as a true community leader. Despite managing a rigorous academic workload at Harvard-Westlake alongside her other extracurricular commitments, Jessie consistently brings an infectious enthusiasm to our cleanups. While many are content to simply complete the baseline tasks, she regularly goes above and beyond—arriving early, taking on extra responsibilities, and motivating her peers with an incredibly positive attitude.

What truly sets Jessie apart, however, is her exceptional initiative. Recognizing the power of digital outreach, she independently took it upon herself to shoot, edit, and produce high-quality social media content highlighting our events. Her creative storytelling and sharp digital skills did much more than just document our hard work—they actively amplified our message, engaged the local community, and inspired other youth to get involved.

Jessie possesses a rare combination of genuine civic duty, creative talent, and a reliable work ethic.

I have absolutely no doubt that she will bring this same drive, creativity, and leadership to the Youth Committee. I give Jessie my highest and most enthusiastic recommendation.

Sincerely,

Andrew Epstein

Chair, SCNC Outreach Committee

Co-Chair, SCNC Sustainability and Beautification Committee